Learning day at Telenor
with Eventsbox

On the 27th of May the Learning day of Telenor Magyarország Zrt. has been held with the help of an event organizer application, called Events Box that is provided by the coproduction of ONLINET Group Zrt. and Astron Kft.

It provides direct communication through sending instant messages directly to the participants' phone before, during and after the event. All information related to a certain event can be found in one place, in the application. With Eventsbox application, participants could easily figure out which sessions they would like to attend and they could save them to get back to it later. There were event cards in the application where they were informed about the start of the programs, the daily menu and the schedules of the buses. In case of any changes they got notifications.

In addition to these the company could involve their participants to play at different games or share photos, which were taken at the event. The guests could subscribe to programs, and evaluate them. For instance they could leave reviews for each session or vote for books that they could win after the event.

During the event, more than 370 Telenor colleagues downloaded and used the Events Box application that we consider to be a huge success.
